1. PREAMBLE

The shortage of suitable employable manpower across many industries has emerged as a substantial and complex challenge to India's future growth. According to NASSCOM, every year over 3 million graduates and post-graduates are added to the Indian workforce. But, only around 25 per cent of the graduates are considered employable by the rapidly growing service industry, which include tourism and hospitality sector also. This reflects the growing skill gap and non-availability of required quality college education in India. This challenge will increase with sprinting pace of the country's service-driven economy, which is growing faster than most countries in the world.

In fact, the competitive business environment seeks graduates with multi-dimensional employable skill sets. It has become necessary to prepare and plan for a relevant world-class, competent, multitasked and innovative manpower. At this juncture, meeting these industry requirements need integrated industry-institute interface for collaborative efforts to meet the mutually desired end result.

This dire need calls for both Industry and Institute to come together and work for each other.

The joint initiative between CII and Institute namely Industry-Institute Connect is expected to provide a platform for interaction & engagement between faculty, students and industries.

2. GENERAL OBJECTIVES

- a) The general objective of this MOU is to formalize various engagements between industry and Academia. The objective is also to enable long term planning by both parties for time, resources and manpower for the engagement. The shortage of suitable employable manpower across many industries has emerged as a substantial and complex challenge to India's future growth. According to NASSCOM, every year over 3 million graduates and post-graduates are added to the Indian workforce. But, only around 25 per cent of the graduates are considered employable by the rapidly growing service industry, which include tourism and hospitality sector also. This reflects the growing skill gap and non-availability of required quality college education in India. This challenge will increase with sprinting pace of the country's service-driven economy, which is growing faster than most countries in the world.

In fact, the competitive business environment seeks graduates with multi-dimensional employable skill sets. It has become necessary to prepare and plan for a relevant world-class, competent, multitasked and innovative manpower. At this juncture, meeting these industry requirements need integrated industry-institute interface for collaborative efforts to meet the mutually desired end result.

This dire need calls for both Industry and Institute to come together and work for each other.
